Some of the stickers are themed and some are suited for any or most occasions. There are lots of possibilities for creating fun postcard scenes. This would make a nice creative activity for a child.The only bad thing is that the stickers don't stick really well. I wouldn't want to take a chance actually sending one of these through the mail without an envelope, or maybe some lamination.

There are teddy bears galore in this delightful collection that lets youngsters design their own all-occasion, full-color postcards by applying stickers to eight blank, easily detachable cards. The volume also contains 103 charmingly rendered stickers--among them 13 boy and girl teddies in town and country wear and costumes depicting an artist, a clown, and a cowgirl.
