Just a single script letter monogram is appearing on sweaters and handbags everywhere and customisation is the hottest trend in stationary and invitations. Easy Invitations, Cards and Announcements is the ultimate guidebook to creating inexpensive, personalised stationary and invitations at home. This book provides design ideas and instruction for helping people use their home computer to make personalised and creative correspondence and invitations that are as beautiful and stunning as any professional's. Use it as a standalone guide or in tandem with mountaincow.com's software programme, which allows users to create their own personalised stationary and invitations right from their own computer. Most people do not even know it's possible to print unique, customised invitations at home. This guidebook fills that void. It includes baby announcements, wedding invitations, thank-you notes, birthday invitations, notes commemorating life's milestones, menus, place cards, gift tags and more.
