In spite of this they have maintained their own military most of the time. During the Russian occupation after World War II, the Polish military forces were forced to use Russian equipment. The helicopters in this book, various models of the Mi-14 were designed and built by the Soviet Union first as anti-submarine warfare units, and then as the design matured it was also used for search and rescue and other tasks. There was even a 24 seat passenger version.This book provides a detailed look at the Mi-14 as used by Poland. It tells the story of their use, in ASW, SAR and Mine-sweeping. The book is profusely illustrated and printed on high quality paper. It covers a little known part of the military history of aviation.

This is the story of Mil Mi-14 (NATO reporting name Haze) a Soviet anti-submarine helicopter which is derived from the earlier Mi-8. It contains: * Scale plans * Photos and drawings from Technical Manuals * Superb color illustrations of camouflage and markings, walk-around color photographs and archive photographs This is essential reading for aviation enthusiasts scale aeromodelers.
