Pat Perryman, Cynthia Voysey : New Designs in Honiton Lace before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised New Designs in Honiton Lace:

With over 40 Honiton Lace designs, each one original, this book is aimed at the lacemaker who wishes to progress from the traditional range of Honiton patterns. It contains patterns, work flow diagrams and a presentation of up-to-date work and methods. None of these designs is traditional and each has been worked to enable the reader to follow a logical sequence in their making. A brief text supports each exercise. Pat Perryman has taught lacemaking for the past twelve years and now tutors and lectures at the Royal School of Needlework, the Misbourne Centre and many others. Cynthia Voysey lectures at local education classes in Devon and also at the Misbourne Centre and West Dean College. She produced all the illustrations for Elsie Luxton's two books on Honiton Lace.
