Suze Perry-Hinkle : Prelude to Paris: It Started in Sausalito -- A Tail of Two Dogs (Dollhouse Dogs) (Volume 3) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Prelude to Paris: It Started in Sausalito -- A Tail of Two Dogs (Dollhouse Dogs) (Volume 3):

Welcome to the fantastic mini-world of Suze Perry-Hinkle's "Dollhouse Dogs" coloring storybooks. Ranger and KowGirl are Australian Cattle dogs who meet in Sausalito, California on foggy morning walks, fall in love, get married, and embark on a honeymoon trip to Paris. Perfect for miniature-fanciers, dollhouse enthusiasts, dog-lovers, and artists both young and young-at-heart, these books have the detailed sketches that advanced colorers are looking for, plus a story that engages the child in all of us. Although detailed, this style of coloring sketch is also very forgiving for those whose enthusiasm is greater than their skill. It is unique in that almost all the sketches have been created from actual miniature dollhouse scenes, painstakingly created in 3D and then photographed to illustrate the story and make the coloring book. Because the 33 sketches in this book are made from photographs, they retain some shading and texture. The shading comes through when you use colored pencils, so you can just apply color, or add more shading if you're in the mood. Ideal for low-tech "de-stressing", with a beautiful result from a variety of skill levels, it is an enchanting coloring experience for children and adults alike. Our recommendation is for ages 8 and up, but we have found detail-oriented 6 and 7-year-olds enjoying this book when they thought no one was looking. Each of our coloring storybooks comes in 3 editions. This is the original English edition in black and white. A bilingual French-English edition will follow, also in black and white, and there is also a Collectors' Color edition which has color illustrations in addition to the sketches. Previous books feature Follymops, the Cavalier King Charles spaniel who lives in a French chateau in Provence, France. Search using keyword "Follymops" to see all our books.

About the Author Suze Perry-Hinkle lives high on a hill in northern California, overlooking the San Francisco Bay. She loves everything French, but instead of moving to France to live in a quaint French village she has created more than 30 miniature buildings over the past decade, which replicate the look of old Paris and are currently crowding her out of her home. But she can't stop, she's obsessed.
